

A FRESH TAKE ON SOUTHERN WEST VIRGINIA HISTORY FOR YOUR CLASSROOM OR LIBRARY. . .

“A Landmark Study of Barboursville”

“Fascinating, enjoyable writing”

“Complete and comprehensive”

“Researched without peer; has an intimate voice and welcomes all readers”

“Really fascinating stuff.”

“I hope people in the state realize the importance of this accomplishment.”

From the bustling county seat of a frontier that included present-day Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Logan, Mingo and Putnam counties, through its "boom" and "bust" eras...Seasoned with stories and photographs of immigrant ancestors, industrious pioneers, diverse travelers, Civil War divisions, idyllic childhoods, dastardly deeds, heroes and visionaries...The Lost Village of Barboursville presents an American portrait of a community reinventing itself again and again.

Within the book's 518 pages are easy-to-digest subsections within 18 themed chapters, plus a comprehensive index of names and a decade-by-decade timeline of county, state, national and international events.

The book presents well-sourced local history as well as new research on:

- Cabell County's African-American History
- Civil War developments and impact on county & village residents
- The village's unique place in West Virginia's State Hospital system
- Barboursville's economic revival courtesy of the "Huntington" Mall

"This is the most complete and comprehensive information on our little village I have seen. Job well done." – Cherry Lewis

If you're into local history, you should read The Lost Village of Barboursville. Really fascinating stuff. - Justin McElroy, Editor-at-Large of Polygon.com

The Lost Village Of Barboursville, is a wonderful book of a very historical town. Researched without peer. An in-depth look at a place anyone would love to live. The book has such an intimate voice and welcomes all readers, no matter where you're from. - Beau Smith, comic book writer and columnist

"What a tremendous endeavor and achievement! I hope people in the state realize the importance of this accomplishment." – Frances B. Gunter, author of The Golden Horseshoe

"Fascinating, enjoyable writing" – Sara Ball Campbell

"What a fantastic achievement! Congratulations on the publication of this work, which will benefit researchers for years to come...congratulations again on the completion and publication of this landmark study of Barboursville." - Joseph N. Geiger, Jr., Director of WV Archives and History

PRICING SCHEDULE (tax not included)

1	Cover Price	$26.95
Copy	USPS Shipping	4.00
	TOTAL	$30.95
5	30% Discount	$94.35
Copies	USPS Shipping	10.00
	TOTAL	$104.35
10	40% Discount	$161.70
Copies	USPS Shipping	15.00
	TOTAL	$176.70
16	52% Discount	$206.98
Copies	USPS Shipping	20.00
(1 case)	TOTAL	$226.98

Learn more & Connect at www.lostvillageofbarboursville.com

Purchase Order for The Lost Village of Barboursville Quality Paperback Book, 518 pages, © 2013, ISBN: 978-0-578-12716-3

Bill To:

Phone/Ext. _____

Postal Address/Ship To: Same as billing address

Number of author-signed copies _____

Total per pricing schedule $ _____

6% WV Sales Tax* _____

Shipping per pricing schedule $ _____

TOTAL Payable to "Jeanette Rowsey Consulting" $ _____

Purchase Order # (optional) _____

Date _____ Requested by _____ (individual or class/department)

Method of Payment:

Check # _____ Credit/Purchase Card P.O./Send Invoice

Card Number _____

Expiration Date _____

*Exempt from 6% WV Sales Tax; completed certificate attached

Send completed order form & tax exemption certificate* to:

JRC
P.O. Box 548
Barboursville, WV 25504

Email: jeanetterowsey@gmail.com
(304) 736-4366